FluoroDose

Great-tasting fluoride varnish offers the maximum dose of sodium fluoride in a unit-dose delivery

Celebrating its 50th anniversary this May, Centrix is a leading manufacturer in creating top-quality and effective dental products. And, through its Prevention for Life program, Centrix is also a leader in spreading awareness on how to deliver preventive care to patients of all ages. A combination of educational tools, preventive products, and transparent doctor-patient communication, Prevention for Life ensures that adult patients, who have historically fallen through the cracks when it comes to preventive care, understand their unique caries risk. CAMBRA & risk assessment forms are provided to help explain to patients their own risk level.

A key tool in the Prevention for Life program is FluoroDose, a fluoride varnish containing 5% sodium fluoride that remains on the tooth for 4 to 6 hours. Easy unit-dose delivery costs less than $1 and takes only a minute to apply. Routine application of FluoroDose is a simple yet effective way to prevent caries and maintain patients' oral health.

"Prevention for Life is a lifelong commitment for both the patient and the oral care provider," said Dr. Fay

Goldstep, who follows the program in her Toronto, Canada, practice. "The practice gets a patient for life, while the patient gets customized treatment from day one."
